CONSORZIO VINI BARDOLINO

The Bardolino designation extends along the eastern shore of Lake Garda, in the province of Verona, Veneto. A unique territory in Italy for its climatic and landscape complexity, ranging from the Mediterranean climate along the lake's coast where olive trees, citrus plants, and bougainvillea alternate to the continental and flat area of Sommacampagna, up to Monte Baldo with its distinctly mountainous climate.

CONSORZIO TUTELA LUGANA DOC

Lugana is the name of a magical land between the hills and fertile plains South of Lake Garda. The Indigenous Turbiana Grape, the Microclima and the Clay soil are the natural architects, that give us a charming white wine, virtuous and capable of winning the challenge of time, while resting in bottles. The Denomination, born in 1967, promotes five different styles characterized by freshness and authenticity to return moments of pure inspiration and elegance.
